

SO, YOU'RE CURIOUS ABOUT

RAD YEO

TIME TO GET TO KNOW HER.

WHO IS SHE?

ANGHARAD 'RAD' YEO

Angharad "Rad" Yeo is an award-winning Australian broadcaster.

Her energetic personality brings an exuberance she is well-known for, alongside her intelligent, insightful, and opinionated approach to everything. Her deep passion for technology, science, arts, and culture puts her in a unique position to dissect the rapidly changing landscape we find ourselves in - including the rise of AI.

Well-versed in STEM content, her focus has been on science, technology, and video games. Never content to sit still, Rad has also worked on content spanning music, education, business, climate, arts and culture, social issues, and queerness.

With over a decade of experience in media she has worked across broadcast television and radio for the ABC, digital, podcasts, and live events, bringing a comprehensive knowledge of all areas of production. She also has a successful social media presence, with tens of thousands of followers across Instagram, Tiktok and X, where she produces a mixture of review and entertainment content.
